

Printing Thermometer

P4101

Printing Thermometer

A dual input printing thermometer that accepts Type T or Type K thermocouple probes. It can give a print on request including time, date and temperature. Alternatively, it can print at predetermined intervals. Also available are alarm outputs. For maximum flexibility the user can select the correct probe for their own application from TME's comprehensive range. The thermometer is supplied complete with a print roll, calibration certificate and carrying case.

